

June 24 - July 1, 2022

Urban Health Summer Institute

Online courses in urban health research and applied methods

Courses will be offered in-person at Drexel University or online with live instruction. Please take note of the class format when enrolling into a course(s). To participate, access to a computer with high-speed internet access is required.

In-Person Courses at Drexel University

- Introduction to Community Based System Dynamics
- Community Based Participatory Research for Strengthening Urban Neighborhoods
- Utilizing Electronic Health Records in Epidemiological Analysis

Online Courses with Live Instruction

- Introduction to Bayesian Analysis for Urban Health
- Applied Policy and Program Evaluation for Urban Health
- GIS Spatial Analysis for Urban Health
- Headlines, Hashtags and Health: Communicating Scientific Findings to the Public
- Agent Based Modeling for Urban Health in AnyLogic
- Inequalities in Healthcare: A Sociological Perspective about How Differences in Health Happen

Courses Offered In-Person and Online

- Introduction to GIS
- Urban Health for Everyone: Overview of Concepts and Approach
- Introduction to Multilevel Analysis for Urban Health Research

Nesbitt Hall, 3215 Market Street, Philadelphia, PA, 19104

Opportunities for professional growth and networking.

Courses are available for participants at all career levels with a focus on skills training related to urban health.

Early bird registration ends April 30, 2022.

LEARN MORE and REGISTER:

bit.ly/UHCSummerInstitute

CONTACT:

uhc@drexel.edu